Grinding Head Stuck On The Shaft

I actually have had this happen to 2 customers!

The first one this happened to:

- Called the Glastar grinder company.
- She was told she could get a “handle puller”.
 - They got one at Lowe's for under $15.00.
- It was called a heavy duty faucet puller.
- The grinder bit came off very fast.
 - She thought the puller kinda looked like a wine cork remover.

I haven't had the need to use this because at Works of Glass we use WD-40 on our shafts whenever we move heads.

The other student sent her grinder in to the manufacturer.
